Unity

in thought, word and deed

Righteousness ... is the manifestation of unity in thought, word, and deed. The same unity is the characteristic of Truth. Truth concerns utterance. Righteousness pertains to practice. Nowadays, precept prevails over practice. Practice is all-important. When righteousness is not practiced, it appears as if it has decayed.

Sathya Sai Speaks, Volume 31

What is humanness? Essentially it means unity in thought, word and deed. When what one thinks differs from what he says and what he does, he ceases to be human. He becomes a demon. Today what men have to cultivate is unity and purity in thought, word and deed. True human qualities can grow only in a heart filled with spiritual aspirations, like a seed sown in a fertile soil and not on a piece of rock. Hence, to develop these qualities, men will have to develop compassion and equanimity amidst the vicissitudes of life.
